CHESTER McMANAWAY

McManaway New Madison School Board President

Chester L. McManaway, operator of a real estate and insurance agency, was elected president of the Madison board of education at a meeting Thursday night.

Beginning his 15th year as a member of the board, he succeeds Orl Blumentstock in the post. Blumentstock, starting his 19th year on the board, was named board secretary.

Reappointed to their positions were Raymond Dragich as superintendent of schools, John Giffith as school attorney and Ray Kosciak as school treasurer.

Appointment of other school administrators was deferred until the May meeting upon the request of the superintendent.

A canvass of the April 12 school election in which William Schreiber and William Vavra were re-elected to the board showed that Schreiber polled 1009 votes, Vavra 885, Sherrell Byrd Sr. 559 and Thomas Watson 282. A total of 1678 ballots was cast.

Band Trip
A trip by the Madison high school band to the University of Illinois on April 27-28 was approved. The band, directed by William Ledbetter, will attend a performance by the university concert band and will tour the campus.

McManaway, Schreiber, Harold T. Fisk and John Belcoff, Madison junior high school, made plans to attend a meeting of school boards and state legislators at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Springfield to discuss school legislation pending in the current General Assembly.

Plans also were made to attend the Western Division meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards April 30 at Mattoon.

Building Repairs
The board will meet Tuesday afternoon at Madison junior high school to inspect areas in need of repair. Replacement of 113 windows at the school was also discussed.

Following the meeting, Belcoff, who was elected city clerk last Tuesday, told the Press-Record that the plan to complete his current term as a member of the school board before retiring from the school board term expires in another year.

The board approved educational salaries totaling $126,000, school lunch salaries of $4600 and building fund salaries of $1233, and bills totaling $8480 from the educational fund, $7548 from the building fund and $5672 from the lunch fund.

A report by the school treasurer showed cash balances of $354,230 in the educational fund, $76,281 in the building fund and $57,780 in the bond and interest fund for a total of $488,292, of which $235,000 is under investment.

School of Dentistry Given OK At SIU-SW

Trustees Vote Friday To Start New Program By Fall Term, 1970

Establishment of a School of Dental Medicine at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus was approved by SIU trustees in meeting at the Southwestern Campus Friday morning.

The board at the same time voted officially to create a School of Medicine at the Carbondale campus. The new medical school may begin operation July 1.

Creation of the new dental school was voted to become effective on funding by the Illinois General Assembly.

The Illinois Board of Higher Education has recommended that the General Assembly appropriate $1.1 million to establish the school. Southern Campus Chancellor John S. Rendleman said the school could be housed temporarily in the science building at the Alton SIU-SW Center.

This decision was made, he said, to speed opening of the school, hopefully by September 1970.

Proposed a Year Ago
Establishment of the School of Dentistry was proposed in February 1968 in a report on education in the health fields to a subcommittee of the Board of Higher Education. The plan was endorsed by the Madison and St. Clair County Dental Societies in a public hearing on May 3 last year. In early June trustees of the board of higher education formally adopted the subcommittee report.

At that time the trustees were informed that 65% of the dentists practicing in southern Illinois are graduates of the St. Louis University School which will graduate its last class in 1970.

Last February the board of trustees appointed Dr. Frank J. Sobkowski as dean of the proposed new school. Sobkowski has been assistant dean of the University of California at Los Angeles.

School of Medicine was established as a unit of the Carbondale campus "to provide education, research and public service in the field of medicine and public health." Robert W. MacVicar, chancellor of the University, said the school is the hope of an early starting date.

Landolt to Seek 7th Term as Board Head
Harold Landolt, chairman of the Madison county board of supervisors, will seek his seventh term in the position at the monthly meeting of the board Wednesday morning at the court house in Edwardsville.

Landolt, supervisor of Alhambra township, is expected to be re-elected without opposition. He announced his candidacy at a dinner he sponsored for members of the board last week in Grantfork.

The agenda for the board meeting includes appropriation of $63,850 to establish a delinquent tax collection department. Included is $11,150 for the Madison County Jail, $20,000 and $32,700 for the office of the county collector.

Bids will be considered for remodeling the third floor of the circuit court offices in the court house.

NEW ELECTRIC FURNACE, first of two to be installed at the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City, melts its first heat of molten metal. Black smoke pours from the furnace seconds before the company's new air pollution control system is turned on.

Burglars Steal 'Green Light' by Attorneys On School Bond Issue Sale From Area Homes

Five house burglaries, seven auto thefts and break-ins at three business places were reported to area authorities over the weekend.

A burglar entered the home of Shirley Harshaw, 1223 Robin street, Venice, during the weekend and stole $176 in cash from a jewelry box in a bedroom. Venice police said they have no evidence of forced entry.

The theft occurred between Friday morning and Sunday evening.

$115 House Burglary
Articles worth $115 were taken by a burglar between noon and 10 p.m. Saturday at the home of Esther Atkins, 1942 Adams street. The intruder broke out and climbed through a basement window and then left all doors of the home open.

Missing are a record player, 10 recordings, a doll set with clothes, another doll set and miscellaneous items.

Burglars broke into the home of Mrs. Cleona Vaughn, 1546 Fifth street, Madison, between 9 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. yesterday and stole an undetermined amount of cash, a tape recorder valued at $150 and six tapes.

Madison police said the intruder ransacked a beauty shop in the basement where the articles were stolen. Entry was gained through a basement window. Entry to the upstairs living area was not gained.

Myona Kiselka, 3107 Kirkpatrick homes, reported that containing $27 was stolen from her apartment while she was gone for about a half hour. She had left the doors unlocked.

Diamond Necklace Stolen
Ruth Mercer, 2306a Iowa street, was reported at 2 p.m. Thursday that a necklace containing six diamonds surrounding one in the center was stolen from her home after 8:30 p.m. April 12. The stones were set in white gold with a white gold chain.

Five newly recaptured tires valued at a total of $100 were stolen Friday night at the Faber Tire & Supply Co., 2800 Nameoki road. The thief climbed over a chain link fence and broke the lock off a tire rack.

'Green Light' by Attorneys On School Bond Issue Sale

An approving opinion, necessary for sale of $4,750,000 in Granite City school bonds, has been obtained from Chapman & Cutler, Chicago bond attorneys.

The opinion was given Friday morning by Stephen B. Davis.

The Chicago firm is participating in preparation of a resolution, outlining the sale, for adoption by the board of education during its next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The board on April 16 voted to accept a purchase offer from a group headed by White-Phillips & Co. The interest rate was set at 5 1/2%, the maximum specified in ballots in the Dec. 7 bond election.

The action will end a brief halt in carrying out planning for construction of three new schools and two school additions. Changes in the bond market during the winter had complicated efforts to sell the bonds.

Steam Line Decision
In other business Wednesday night, the board is to consider replacement of a 12-year-old steam line which carries heat between Granite City high school and Coolidge junior high school. Alternatives include:

1. Install an independent heating plant at Coolidge and replace only the section of the steam line between the present boiler room and gymnasium at a cost of about $60,000.

2. Replace the entire existing steam line in a tunnel or overhead at an estimated $100,000 cost.

3. Place a new line directly in the ground, equipped with a protective casing, for about $40,000.

The board also will confer with GCCHS Principal Lawrence McCauley on proposed establishment of student identification cards.

5 Undergo Surgery At Local Hospital
The following are recovering at St. Elizabeth Hospital from surgery which they underwent since Thursday:

Carol Tipton, 905 Lee avenue, Madison; Jessie Harmon, 304 Selb street, Venice; Edward Gaudreault, 1718 Courtnay blvd.; Chester Payne, Lea Wright homes, Venice; Bernadine Asperger, 1407 Madison avenue.

Information Sought On Beating at Church
Information that could aid in determining the identity of two men who assaulted Warren Simpkins at Nidringhaus United Methodist Church April 16 is being sought by Granite City police.

Anyone with any data on any of a series of harassments of the vocal music director in recent months is being asked to contact the police.

The occurrences have included telephone calls, burning of a boat cover and breaking of windshields of two autos. The motivation of the assaults is unknown.

A former war II veteran and 18-year resident here, Simpkins has been active in leading singing at Granite City high school and the church and in conducting choruses at a variety of public events.

Parked Auto Rolls
After being parked at the curb, an auto which had been driven by Jacob L. Rippey, 3630 Circle drive, rolled backward across the street and struck the parked auto of James Bernadine, 2300 Illinois avenue, at 8:10 p.m. Sunday.

ASF Increasing Steel Castings Capacity 30%

8th Sewer Break Found Today; Another Probable

An apparently severe sewer break in the Nameoki area sanitary sewer—the eighth in the past three months—and another probable break in the same line less than a block away were reported today by Street Supt. Warfield.

The new break is located on Amos avenue at Fair Oaks drive and "looks like another bad one," Warfield said. The new break was discovered last night. Digging began this morning in preparation for pumping operations to determine extent of the new rupture.

The probable break is located on North street at Amos, less than a block from the new cavern. Warfield said this spot was barricaded Saturday night but that street crews have not yet had an opportunity to fully determine if a break has occurred at that point.

A full report on the mounting sewer problem and probable causes for collapse of the sewer lines at so many points within a short time is scheduled for the city council in its regular meeting tonight. Warfield has said the cave-ins are not caused by actual breaks in the tile, but rather by a separation of sewer line joints caused by seeping sand and water.

At least three of the earlier breaks are still under repair. The initial break cost $39,547 to repair.

Job Openings Here Described As Plentiful
Job openings in the Quad-Cities are plentiful, Malcolm A. Thompson, manager of the Illinois State Employment Service here, noted today.

Openings exist in a wide variety of positions, from accounting clerk to welder.

Most plants in this area are in need of such employees as foundry workers, welders, laborers, material handlers, production helpers and flame cutters.

Men are preferred for most jobs, but a few jobs exist for women. Riggers, welders, stenographers and a mature babysitters.

Pay for jobs ranges from the minimum up to $200 per month, depending on duties and qualifications of applicants, Thompson said.

Persons interested in applying for jobs are being urged to go to the local Employment Service office at 2050 Iowa street.

Dust, Smoke Collectors
Each furnace is connected to a dust and smoke collector standing 35 feet high, 42 feet long, and with the capacity to process up to 900 cubic feet of air a minute. Pelletizing machines convert the collected dust into small marble-like pellets for dust-free disposal.

During the past five years at the Granite City plant, the company has installed new machinery facilities, an improved dust system, a large cleaning and finishing department, more storage area and a modernized and expanded electrical distribution system.

"These new facilities and the substantial sums invested are evidence of the confidence our company has in the future of the railroad industry," Chapman said.

Side Frames, Bolsters
Side frames and bolsters for the railroads are the primary products manufactured at both foundries, but cast steel couplers, draft pins and yokes also are turned out at Alliance.

ASF operates another steel foundry at East Chicago, Ind., which produces cast steel brake beams and draft gear housings for the railroads and fifth wheels, the device which couples highway trucks to their trailers.

$5 1/2 Million Capital Improvement Program Increases Production

American Steel Foundries today announced that it is increasing its capacity to produce steel castings for railroad car trucks by nearly 30%.

H. W. Chapman, ASF president, said that as a result of a $5 1/2 million capital improvement program carried out over the past 15 months, ASF's Granite City and Alliance, O., plants will be able to produce a combined total of about 200 car sets of side frames and bolsters a day.

"Much of this increased capacity is already on stream, and the remainder will be available by late summer when our third new electric furnace becomes operational," Chapman said.

"This additional production capability is a boon to the railroads as they are substantially increasing their orders for freight cars."

In the six months ended March 31, the railroads ordered about 46,000 new freight cars nationally, up 50% from a year ago. The backlog of freight cars to be built as of March 31 was about 35,000, a 35% increase.

Chapman said this improvement resulted from recent gains in railroad traffic, the granting of needed rate increases and a continuing need to modernize the railroads freight car fleet.

He said ASF has spent $13 1/2 million in the last five years to streamline production, modernize its plant and improve quality and a capacity large enough to adequately meet the demand for freight cars during peak periods of railroad ordering," he said.

In Excellent Position
He also noted that the company moved ahead with these expansion plans despite the sharp decline in railroad capital spending which was triggered by the suspension of the 7% investment tax credit in October 1968.

"As a result," he said, "the company is now in an excellent position to take care of the railroads increasing business."

Of ASF's $13 1/2 million capital spending program, the largest single portion was for the installation of the new 20-ton capacity electric arc furnaces to replace open hearth facilities.

The first went into operation at Alliance in mid-February, the second at Granite City in February. The third, scheduled to be completed at Granite City late this summer, Chapman said, the furnace is equipped with base-blast air filtration systems designed to meet the most modern codes governing air pollution.

Each furnace is connected to a dust and smoke collector standing 35 feet high, 42 feet long, and with the capacity to process up to 900 cubic feet of air a minute. Pelletizing machines convert the collected dust into small marble-like pellets for dust-free disposal.

During the past five years at the Granite City plant, the company has installed new machinery facilities, an improved dust system, a large cleaning and finishing department, more storage area and a modernized and expanded electrical distribution system.

Absentee Ballots Ready for State Senator Election

Ballots are now available at the office of Madison county Clerk Eulalia Hots in Edwardsville for qualified voters who will be absent from the 13rd district of the special election to fill the vacancy of state senator.

There are three types of applications: For the regular absentee voter who will be out of Madison county on April 29, for the physically incapacitated and for members of the U. S. service and their dependents who are traveling with them.

Last day for absent electors to apply by mail is April 24, and the last day to apply in person in the county clerk's office is April 28. The office will be open from 9 a.m. to noon only on April 28.

Civilian and physically incapacitated absentee voters are required to be registered. Persons in the U. S. service or dependents with them need not be registered but must meet the requirements of one year's residence in Illinois, 90 days in the county and 30 days in the precinct of their legal residence.

The federal government provides applications at the various installations, or the county clerk will air mail an application to any service personnel upon request.

Further provision in the election laws permits a relative of the U. S. service elector to file application for them. By relative, the law stipulates that the father, mother, sister, brother or spouse are the only persons entitled to complete the application.

The application for ballot to be completed by the physically incapacitated must be notarized, and the attending physician must complete an affidavit of disability on the reverse side of the application. The doctor's signature also must be notarized.

Since the April 29 election is general, voters will not be required to request a Democratic or Republican ballot. Both candidates appear on the same ballot.

The only townships involved in the election are Granite City, Venice, Nameoki, Chouteau, Wood River, Alton, Godfrey, Edwardsville, Pin Oak and Jarvis.

SIU-SW Dentistry School Faces 'Many Challenges'

Timetable for Southern Illinois University's new School of Dental Medicine at the Southwestern campus—formally established by the SIU board of trustees Friday—could be disrupted by October this year, Dr. Frank J. Sobkowski, newly appointed dentistry dean, told the annual meeting of the Madison and St. Clair Counties Dental Society at Belleville Thursday.

Dr. Sobkowski said it is hoped that the first students will be enrolled by September of next year. However, he added, there are many challenges to be met before a definite time for the opening can be determined.

Establishment of the school depends upon the Illinois legislature appropriating $1.1 million as recommended by the State Board of Higher Education.

Among the tasks to be completed before the school could be inaugurated are:

Formulation of a curriculum and establishment of long-range objectives and goals for the school.

Renovating temporary facilities at the Alton Center of SIU-SW.

And recruitment of students.

Dr. Sobkowski said he hopes that by this fall plans for meeting these needs will be formed.

Need Psychologist
Talking about the proposed School, the dean commented on his belief in the need for an educational psychologist to work with him for maximum consideration of effective and efficient learning processes.

Dr. Sobkowski wants to incorporate training that will insure the student's abilities at self-learning. According to the dean, "With the rapid and increasing information package, we're going to need a lot of continuing education in oral medicine. Basically, we're going to need professional students who are talented and pursue knowledge on their own."

The dean also pointed out that research will be a vital part of a School of Dental Medicine. He believes there will be more and more incorporation of oral medicine in other areas of medical science.

One of the concerns expressed by the former assistant dean of the UCLA School of Dentistry is for students to be exposed to the social sciences, particularly behavioral science. "This," he said, "is a necessary part of education—learning about people and communities."

Views on Innovation
Dr. Sobkowski also talked about the need for generalists in dentistry and his views on innovation.

"I would hope that our future graduates will be generalists, even knowing his talents and abilities as well as his limitations."

"We'll be interested in innovation," he added, "but only when innovation is warranted."

The dean received his doctorate of dental surgery from the School of Dental Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania and the Ph.D. from the School of Medicine and Dentistry at the University of Rochester.

He comes to SIU-SW as dean after two years as chairman of the division of oral radiology and assistant dean at UCLA.

Dr. Sobkowski and his family plan to move to this area about July 1. He was named dean by the SIU board of trustees at the February meeting.

Buses to Operate To Morris Salute Dinner on May 5

Plans are nearing completion for a "Salute to Delta W. Morris," president of Southern Illinois University, May 5. Marking the 20th anniversary of his inauguration as SIU president, the salute will begin with a dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the Arena at Carbondale.

Included on the program to follow at 8 p.m. will be presentation of the Salute to Morris Scholarship Fund honoring the president and his wife. Short talks will be given by Chancellor for Robert MacVicar of Carbondale and Chancellor John Riedman of SIU-SW.

A three-screen film depicting Morris' 20-year story at SIU and music by the Angel Flight Singers will also be featured.

Governor to Attend
Among distinguished guests expected to be present are Governor and Mrs. Richard Ogilvie and members of the Illinois General Assembly and the SIU board of trustees.

General chairman for the SIU-SW area is Mrs. William R. Kaste, Jr., of Edwardsville. Members of her committee include J. Homer Kennedy, chairman for the Alton area; and Mrs. George Arnold, chairman for the Alton area.

Clifton E. Blankenship, president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, is chairman for Granite City, Madison and Venice.

Tickets for the dinner are $10 each, which includes a contribution to the Salute to Morris Scholarship Fund. For income tax deductions, checks should be made payable to "Salute to Morris."

Reservations by May 1
Reservations are to be made by May 1. Free excursion buses will leave the Krogus parking lot in Edwardsville at 4 p.m. for Carbondale.

In Alton, East St. Louis, and Wood River, tickets are available at Chamber of Commerce offices. Edwardsville residents may secure tickets at the Edwardsville National Bank and Trust Co. SIU-SW students and university personnel are to contact Mrs. Arnold at the University News Service, General Offices Building, telephone (618) 689-0000.

Interested persons living in areas not mentioned should contact Mrs. Rohrbach, (618) 689-0440.

Alton Man Sentenced In Rape Attempt Case

An Alton man who pleaded guilty to charges of attempted rape of two women, including a Granite City girl, was sentenced to a term of two-to-five years in Menard State Penitentiary Thursday in circuit court at Jerseyville.

He is Douglas Ash, 27, who was one of several who were indicted for rape of the women on Dec. 28 and Jan. 3 at a motel near Jerseyville.

Three of Ash's accomplices also pleaded guilty to the reduced charge of attempted rape and received lesser sentences.

They are Michael Gene Jones, 19, of Roxana, sentenced to a year at the state prison at Jandalia, and Larry C. Miller, 18, and Paul Eugene Woodman, 18, both of Alton, who were given time file for probation.

The canvass was completed by the council in a regular session. It showed an official total vote cast of 1439 ballots, with 283 in Ward One, 422 in Ward Two, 330 in Ward Three and 404 in Ward Four.

Six re-elected city officials will be given oaths of office for new terms and Henry Baucum, newly-elected alderman of Ward Four, will be seated in the May 2 council session.

The council adopted an ordinance to prohibit parking on the east side of Weaver street between Calhoun and Douglas streets, and fixed a specific penalty of $500 fine for each violation.

The Venice fire department, in a report submitted by Thomas J. Crawford, secretary, listed fire losses in Venice totaled only $1400 during the first quarter of this year, resulting in a per capita fire loss of 26 cents during the three-month period.

Dismiss Charges In Weapons Case. A circuit court order for return of 34 weapons and $900 of ammunition to three Eagle Park Acres men has been issued by Circuit Judge Harold Clark in Edwardsville.

Charges against the men were dismissed because of a recent Supreme Court decision in which charges against a St. Louis gambler were set aside because a search warrant was obtained on information from an anonymous informant.

Last August, the three men were arrested in a raid by state police, East St. Louis police and Madison county sheriff's deputies armed with a search warrant obtained on information from an anonymous tipster. After the men were charged with unlawful use of a weapon, authorities learned that Lucas had a gun dealer license.

Lance Callis, Granite City attorney representing the defendants, filed motions to quash the case and suppress the evidence on grounds that the affidavit upon which the search warrant was based was insufficient and that the information came from an anonymous informant.

MORE ABOUT School of approved and is received favorably by the governor we can get started July 1," he told the board.

In creating the new school at Carbondale, the board said its principal purpose shall be to provide a program designed to produce practitioners of community medicine and to conduct this program through affiliation with existing hospitals, clinics and other agencies appropriate for the provision of clinical experiences for undergraduates.

The action implements MacVicar's innovative plan approved a year ago by Illinois physicians and the Illinois Board of Higher Education to make use of existing teaching talent in the natural and physical sciences as well as existing hospital facilities in Springfield. MacVicar termed it a "medical school without walls," and said it would be a big stride toward alleviating the shortage of doctors and allied medical personnel in southern Illinois.

The board of trustees also decided Friday to hold up for one month approval of preliminary plans for construction of a new building to be located on No. 2 to be built on a site south of and adjacent to the present Communications Center.

To Cost $4.7 Millions

The new building, estimated to cost $4.7 millions, will include as its principal feature a large theater with extensive and varied stage facilities. While the plan apparently had been scheduled for approval in Friday's meeting, it was decided to delay another month to work out several minor objections.

Dr. Delyte Morris, SIU president, objected principally to a "round-about" entrance pattern for handicapped persons in wheel chairs, and suggested that a more direct entry at ground level could be worked out. Several board members objected also to the placement of lockers along the inside walls of the theater. They said they believed persons using the lockers would create congestion in leaving and entering the theater. They suggested a new method of locker placement be investigated.

The board approved acceptance of a low bid of $841,300 by

Area Colleges Receive 115 Opportunity Grants

Rep. Melvin Price announced today that the U.S. Office of Education will allocate a total of $56,430 under the Educational Opportunity Grants Program to Southern Illinois University-Southern campus and McKendree College, Lebanon, for the 1969-70 academic year.

McKendree College will receive $24,817 for 45 grants, with SIU-SW allocated $31,619 for 70 student awards. Under the program, a student of exceptional financial need receives between $200 and $1000 a year for a possible four years. The participating institution selects the grantee, Price noted.

The Bituminous Fuel & Oil Co. of East St. Louis for construction of North drive and the Family Housing Access road in the Southwestern campus area, provided that the contract be awarded when funds were available. Dr. Morris said the project could not be undertaken until the present fiscal year.

The contracts are for construction of two lanes of North Drive linking University Drive East to the new north access road, and for construction of an access road from University Drive to the new family housing area now being developed. They also provide for an access road from Poag road to the site of the new Mississippi River Festival.

Four Appointments

Appointment of two professors and two visiting professors featured a short personnel agenda considered during the meeting. Most of the appointments to the faculty were in the lower academic ranks of assistant professor and instructor.

Robert E. Mason was appointed professor in the Education Division and will report to the Southwestern campus July 1. He is a native of Blissfield, Mich., and has taught at Western Reserve University and the University of Pittsburgh.

Miss Catherine McHugh of La Crosse, Wis., was appointed professor of music at the Carbondale campus. She taught in Wisconsin and Michigan and served on the faculty of the University of Arkansas. She will join the SIU faculty in September.

New Art Instructor

Patrick Betaudier will serve as visiting professor of art at Carbondale campus during the current spring quarter. A painter, he has studied in England and France, taught in London and exhibited in galleries of the world.

Harold W. Hannah will serve as visiting professor of agricultural industries during the summer quarter. He has been associate dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois.

Before beginning his business session, the board viewed a half-hour colored slide presentation arranged by Ralph Ruffner, vice-president of SIU Area and International Services. The slides demonstrated various series by SIU on campus, in the community, in the state and nation, and in international locations.

In his narration on the slide exhibits, Ruffner said that research, instruction and service are now bound up interdependently. He said service functions provide a test of relevance for much of what is learned in classrooms and laboratories.

In addition to on-campus continuing education functions, he described SIU Area and International Service activities in the communities around the Southwestern and Carbondale campuses, and beyond that to the entire southern Illinois area, which he described as "our prime service area."

Examples included educational and cultural radio and television programming from studios and transmitters at Carbondale, Tamaras and Olney and an FM station at the Southwestern campus next fall, as well as neighborhood improvement, human relations and education programs at Carbondale, Alton, East St. Louis and the Southwestern campus.

Perjury Charge Sought In Trailer Zoning Case

The Madison county zoning board of appeals has recommended denial of a rezoning request for a mobile home tract. The zoning board of appeals has recommended denial of a rezoning request for a mobile home tract.

The zoning amendment was sought by Richard Iberg on a tract of land on Illinois 162 just east of Road 157 for development of the trailer court.

During the zoning hearing, Donald Smith of Winnetka, a representative of the Mobile Home Manufacturers Association to testify in favor of the court, told the board that he was a graduate of Purdue University, received a law degree from the University of Miami, Fla., and was a member of the American Institute of Planners. William Johnson, a magistrate who resides near the tract and is opposing the trailer court plan, submitted a telegram from the University of Miami stating that Smith had received a bachelor's degree there, but not a law degree.

He also submitted affidavits showing that Smith had never been a student at Purdue and was not a member of the American Institute of Planners.

Jaros and Sparks Nuptials
Ceremony Saturday Evening

Miss Kathy Sparks, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Sparks, 2242 Adams street, became Mrs. John Jaros in a ceremony taking place Saturday evening at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Jaros, 2101 Clark avenue.

Rev. Lawrence Mattingly heard the vows of the couple in a double-ring ceremony performed at 6 o'clock. A reception was held directly afterward at the Moose Lodge in Edwardsville.

Ums of white gladioli and pom poms adorned the altar. Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw was organist and Miss Deborah Lemonds, vocalist, sang "Because" and "Wedding Prayer."

A gown of white Chantilly lace over satin was worn by the bride. It was fashioned with a high ruffled neckline and long sleeves trimmed with ruffles. Satin buttons were used on the Empire bodice banded with a front self bow. Back fullness formed a cascade which fell to the hemline of the long A-line gown.

A forward floral headpiece held in place the bride's tiered veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses and variegated ivy with a corsage of roses.

Mr. Sparks gave his daughter in marriage. Mrs. William Schaefer, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Peggy Jaros, the bridegroom's sister, Miss Karla Sparks, a sister of the bride, bridesmaids, and Joyce Sparks, another sister, junior maid, were dressed in rainbow shades of pastel blue, peach, pink, and yellow.

The flower girls were floor-length with chiffon coat effects, scoop necklines and elbow-length sleeves. Satin banded the waistlines and dem-bach belts were trimmed with rhinestone buttons. Veils attached to pearl combs matched the colors of the gowns, and they carried colonial bouquets of white carnations tipped in the various colors.

Little Julie Johnston, a niece of the bride, was flower girl, and William Schaefer, a nephew, carried the rings. The former was dressed in pink tulle. She carried white and pink flowers in a white basket.

George Gregus was best man. Other attendants for Mr. Jaros were Jerry Sparks, the bride's brother, John Van Deusen, William Schaefer, a brother-in-law of the bride, and Jim Gubsen, groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sparks chose a two-piece dress of pale green nylon, while the bridegroom's mother appeared in a light blue crepe dress with a full length lace.

MRS. MICHAEL E. MODRUSIC, the former Miss Gertrude Marie Hayn, who was married Saturday at St. Kevin's Catholic Church in Rosewood Heights.

Miss Hayn, Michael E. Modrusic Are Married

Two altar bouquets and green fern cascades adorned the altar at St. Kevin's Roman Catholic Church, 108 E. Airwood, Rosewood Heights, as Rev. Frank J. O'Hara officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mr. Hayn escorted his daughter down the aisle. She wore an A-line gown of bombazine, trimmed with re-embroidered lace insets, and tubular sleeves. A circular train was attached to the shoulders. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids with stephanotis and English ivy.

Miss Betty Jean Hayn, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, Mrs. Ned Freeman, Helen Ann Modrusic, a sister of the groom, Mrs. Paul Smith and Mrs. Don Wolf served as bridesmaids.

Anita Smith, godchild of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid, with Debra Freeman, niece of the bride, as flower girl. King bearer was Stephen Senceney, a cousin of the groom.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were gown in yellow sheaths featuring crocheted daises on the bodices and hemlines of the gowns. They carried cascades of yellow crystal pom poms centered with white daisy pom poms and featherfern.

The junior bridesmaid's gown was identical to those of the bridesmaids. She carried a basket of flowers.

The flower girl wore a white sheath gown with white crocheted daises on the bodice and hemline. She also carried a basket of flowers.

Mrs. Hayn, mother of the bride, was attired in a beige sheath with matching lace coat and pink accessories.

Mrs. Modrusic chose a pink lace coat over a pink lace sheath with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Charles Thomas served as best man, with Robert Hayn, brother of the bride, Paul Smith, Steve Knogl and Donald Wolf as groomsmen.

A reception followed the ceremony. It was held at the Knights of Columbus hall in Wood River.

Arlington Heights News

MRS. FAYE HESTER
84 Karen Drive
931-2415

HERE FROM PENSACOLA, ARIZONA
Photographer Mate David Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Wood, 35 Mike Drive, returned home Wednesday evening from Pensacola, Fla., where he had been stationed since September.

While in Pensacola, he attended a 14-week course in camera operation, after which he studied camera repairs for 12 weeks.

Wood enlisted in the Navy in June 1967. After basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, he spent a year in the Philippines.

Following an 18-day leave, he will report for duty aboard the aircraft carrier USS Oriskany, CVA 34, out of Alameda, Calif. He will continue his education in color photography while aboard.

What began as a hike down a country road near Arlington Heights Saturday morning ended as a nature study for Brownie Troop 118 of Lake school.

While walking along the road, the girls observed a small crawling animal. They all found small shells.

They next discovered a groundhog hole and, upon further investigation, were able to find both the "front and back doors."

A major item of interest for the troop was the discovery of a newly-hatched baby turtle. After noticing a slight movement in the sand, Mrs. Mary Lou Hudson, one of the troop leaders, suggested that they wait and see what would take place.

To their delight, the baby turtle soon emerged. The troop has claimed it as a mascot. The girls picked a variety of

1692 Cases Terminated In Courts During March

A total of 1692 cases were terminated in Madison county circuit court during March, but new filings make it difficult to reduce the backlog of cases, according to Willard Portell, clerk of the circuit court. So far this year about as many criminal cases have been filed as in all of last year, he said, and the increased load has a large bearing on the disposition of law and other types of cases because of a rule in which the defendant must be tried within 120 days.

These cases have preference over any other type cases as to docketing for trial, he said, and all the judges are working full time trying to dispose of the backlog.

The criminal cases are piling up, however, Portell said, and are taxing the state's attorney, the public defender and the courts.

$10,000 Law Cases

In law cases involving more than $10,000, jury and non-jury, 56 cases had dispositions, "which is a good record," the clerk said.

Magistrates terminated 76 law cases, he continued, and "we intend to dispose of quite a few in this category during the summer months."

The clerk has been presenting in the past before business groups throughout the county, leading to a large increase in small claims, but he said these can be disposed of quickly.

A clean-up docket call on all divorces is planned for this summer, and probate cases remain stable. Ordinance and traffic violations will increase during the summer, he predicted.

19 Felony Cases

During March, the court disposed of 19 felony cases. Seven were dismissed and one was acquitted by a jury. There were 10 guilty pleas, and two persons were convicted by a jury. Three led to prison terms and nine received probation.

Eighty-one divorce decrees and one annulment were issued during the month, while three divorce cases were dismissed. Thirty-three jury cases of more than $10,000 were started during the month, 34 were terminated and 1136 are pending. Non-jury cases for the same amount showed 28 started, 22 terminated and 79 pending.

Jury cases of $10,000 and under showed 19 started, 31 terminate and 322 pending, while non-jury cases showed 49 started, 45 terminated and 513 pending. In small claims, 281 cases were started, 412 were terminated and 1470 are pending.

Other Cases

Three condemnation cases were terminated, with 45 pending. In miscellaneous remedies, 14 were started, nine were terminated and 265 are pending. Twenty-three chancery cases were started, 21 were terminated and 354 are pending.

In family court, 117 cases were started and 88 were terminated. In divorce court, 149 were started, 85 were terminated and 1212 are pending. Fifty-seven probate cases were started and 53 are pending. Twenty felony cases were started, 15 were terminated and 146 are pending. In misdemeanors, 561 cases were started, 553 were terminated and 1680 are pending. Traffic cases showed 1692 started and 1692 terminated.

Seventeen of the law cases have been on file nine or more years.

Open Housing Support Voted by County EOC

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission has voted to authorize the drafting of a resolution in support of a county-wide open housing ordinance, according to Victor Darnell, EOC deputy director, who said Friday the resolution will be sent to the Madison county board of supervisors this week.

Action was taken on the resolution, through which it is hoped to alleviate housing problems of the poor, at the commission's monthly meeting last week in Edwardsville. Darnell recommended sending the formal statement to the county board spelling out the commission's position in support of local open occupancy laws.

The EOC officer told commission members that housing problems of the poor in the county are particularly bad in the Venice and Madison areas, where housing is being torn down leaving low-income families almost nowhere to live.

At the same meeting, Dr. William Tudor, director of Public Administration and Metropolitan Affairs for Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus, was named chairman of the county EOC's new Housing Committee. He said he would like to see the commission actively foster the development of public housing in Edwardsville for elderly and low-income residents.

Other members of the Housing Committee, yet to be selected, may include Rep. Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, a member of the county EOC.

Scott Explains Plans To Combat Pollution

Legislation to strengthen the Illinois attorney general's role in combating air and water pollution throughout the state was introduced in the Illinois House today.

The measures, sponsored by State Rep. Alan R. Johnston (R., Kenilworth), were requested by Attorney General William J. Scott as a first step in his projected crackdown on pollution violators.

"For the first time, these bills will give attorney general statutory authority to initiate legal actions against pollution violators anywhere in the state. They also provide stiff new penalties for violators," Scott explained.

Would Plug Loopholes
The Scott anti-pollution legislative package is intended to plug up a number of loopholes in the present law.

For instance, at present, the Illinois Sanitary Water Board can ask the attorney general's office to act against polluters anywhere in the state except in Cook county. The new bills would extend the attorney general's statewide jurisdiction to Cook county.

"Also, there are now only minor penalties against air polluters. Our legislation includes criminal penalties against both air and water polluters," Scott said.

Fines, Imprisonment

The measures call for fines of up to $5000 for violators, and an additional penalty not to exceed $200 for each day the violation continues; or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not to exceed six months; or both fine and imprisonment.

Before the legislation was drafted, Scott conferred with leading local, state and national experts on air and water pollution.

"The experts told me that Lake Michigan will be a dead lake in only nine years if pollution is permitted to continue. Coho Salmon has been taken from the lake with levels of DDT higher than man can tolerate. This is only one of our many pollution problems.

"The prosecution of those who pollute the state's air and waterways is one of the most important responsibilities of the attorney general's office, and one of the gravest challenges of our time."

More Manpower Sought
Scott said he also is asking the legislature to approve budget requests that will permit him to increase the manpower in his pollution control division.

Attorney General Scott's budget, for the first time, provides for a full-time anti-pollution staff including four assistant attorneys general, a pollution control engineer and eight investigators.

A partial list of co-sponsors of the bill includes Rep. Ray Anderson (R., Galesburg), Rep. John Connolly (R., Waukegan), and Rep. James Londrigan (D., Springfield).

Scott yesterday discussed pollution problems with the governors and attorneys general of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. The meeting at O'Hare Field was called by Michigan Gov. William J. Milliken.

Delinquent Personal Property Tax Drive Awaits County Board Action

With an increasingly effective crackdown on delinquent personal property taxes occurring in St. Clair county and elsewhere, the Madison County Board of Supervisors will be right in step with the times Wednesday if it approves the collection plan devised by County Treasurer John Maeras and State's Attorney R. W. Griffith in consultation with county board committees.

The appropriation for a staff, equipment and court costs would be reimbursed many times over by the taxes obtained, projections indicate.

And all taxpayers would have the knowledge that the personal property tax is being administered fairly, rather than being collected only from those willing to pay it and those who cannot avoid it due to also owning real estate.

'National Library Week' Programs in Quad-Cities

Activities at the three local public libraries in observance of "National Library Week," which started yesterday and continues through Saturday, include story hours and special programs for youngsters in Madison, visitation by school children in Granite City and exhibits and poster displays at the Venice library.

The head librarians at all three public libraries announced today that times, usually leveled for overdue books, will be discontinued for patrons who return books to the individual libraries this week only.

Mrs. Mary Gene Knufinke, Granite City head librarian, said the annual practice of visitation by student groups from various city schools again is being encouraged during "National Library Week."

Several elementary classes registered last week to visit the institution within the next few days. Reservations are required for group tours of principals or teachers asked to call Mrs. Knufinke to set the date and hours. Each of the children receive a bookmark and treat at the conclusion of their visit.

"We want to let youngsters know that both fun and knowledge can be gained through use of the library," Mrs. Knufinke commented. She noted that in previous years, groups have arrived during school hours by the "bus load," others are brought to the library by parents in several private automobiles and some pupils, especially those attending nearby schools, walk over to the library building at 20th street and Delmar avenue.

Programs in Madison
At the Madison public library three children's story hours will be held this week from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, according to Mrs. Louise Lewis, head librarian at Madison.

From noon until 2 p.m. on Saturday, a special program also is being arranged for youngsters, including arts and crafts, storytelling and records. Tentatively planned are visits to the library by Madison students during school hours.

Mrs. Lewis said that flyers are to be distributed this week throughout the community advising local residents "just what is available at their public library."

"I am afraid that many adults believe the library is for students and children only, when we have hundreds of interesting books on such things as gardening, dieting, drug addiction, mental health, home decorating and similar adult subjects," she stated.

"Be All You Can Be—Read," the slogan of National Library Week, is the local point in a display at the Venice public library. Although no special projects are planned in Venice this week, Mrs. Sybil Robbs, head librarian, urged residents to visit the library and encourage their children to do so.

Illinois Secretary of State and State Librarian Paul Powell, also urged all citizens to visit their public libraries during the current week. "Nothing in our national life can continue to prosper, to grow in body and in spirit without the backup of information and the food of wisdom and recreation stocked in libraries," Powell said.

"Even those who boast of reading nothing beyond a newspaper are forced into an awareness of the world by men and women who have spent time in study and in pleasure so that they might have the facility to report."

"Librarians in public, academic, private and special libraries all over the nation are dedicated in service to the present and the future and they are caretakers of the records of the past. They work in the most sophisticated levels of learning for the educated and in the simplest forms to attract the very young and the underprivileged," the secretary said.

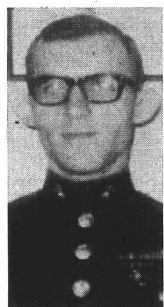

"We in Illinois are proud of the advances made under the Library Development Act of 1965. There are now 18 library systems covering the state, giving new vigor to local public libraries with solid continuing financial support and professional counsel."

"During National Library Week all citizens should visit their libraries and learn how and why their use has doubled, even tripled, in the last few years," Powell stated.

Would you believe you've never served a meal on a really sanitary dish?

Sure, they're as clean as you can get them, but are they sanitized? Washing dishes by hand may get your dishes visibly clean, but it takes the scalding water temperature and more powerful detergents of an automatic dishwasher to make sure they're really sanitized. This extra health protection and peace of mind is just the beginning of the benefits.

You can also forget the drudgery and backache of doing dishes the old-fashioned way. Dishes are out of sight. You have a cleaner counter and sink.

You have more time for family activities—figure an hour each day! And nobody gets stuck doing the dishes.

Speaking of "stuck," many new automatic dishwashers feature increased water speeds for those sticky pots and pans. So, isn't it time your whole family discovered that...

Happiness is...an automatic dishwasher!
